Curfews remain in three coastal towns

Communities restricted during designated hours

FREEHOLD, NJ - The curfew in three of Monmouth County's coastal communities remain in effect as follows:

- Highlands - 11 p.m. - 6 a.m. curfew
- Manasquan - 7 p.m. - 7 a.m. curfew in effect East of East Main Street Bridge
- Union Beach - 6 p.m. - 6 a.m. curfew

In Belmar, the curfew is lifted, but only essential personnel are allowed on Ocean Avenue.

In towns where the county curfew remains in effect, only essential personnel may be outside and on the roads between designated hours. This includes emergency service personnel and those who are responsible for critical services within the county.

"The curfew continues for selected coastal communities to assist our law enforcement operations, ensure the safety of our residents and also help meet the needs of our communities," said Sheriff Shaun Golden.
